Dear ~~Enter Contributor Name here~~
Adrian Mackenzie

Manchester University Press (hereinafter called the Publisher) is pleased to confirm your agreement to contribute to the forthcoming publication:

Ethnography for a Data Saturated World (the Work)

Edited by: Hannah Knox and Dawn Nafus (the Editor)

Your contribution will be published on the following terms:

1. You have agreed to contribute a chapter of no more than:

7000 (words)

Operative Ethnographies and Large Numbers

Entitled ~~Enter Chapter Title here~~ (the Contribution),

To be submitted to the Editor no later than 1st May 2017

2. You as the Author of the Contribution warrant to the Publisher that the Contribution is original to yourself, that it has not hitherto been published in any form, and is not a violation or infringement of any existing copyright or licence or any other right of any other person or party whatsoever. You undertake to indemnify the Publisher against any claims, any loss, damage or costs, including any legal costs properly incurred, occasioned to the Publisher in consequence of any breach of this warranty or arising out of any claim alleging that your Contribution constitutes a breach of this warranty.

You have accepted responsibility for obtaining permission for publication in the Contribution at your expense of any textual material in which copyright vests in any other person or party and have delivered to the Publisher for safe keeping any documents relating to the granting of such permissions.

3. For the consideration set out in Clause 6, you, by way of assignment of present or future copyright, hereby assign to the Publisher the entire copyright and all other rights of a like nature in and to the Contribution throughout the world for the full legal term of copyright and all renewals and extensions thereof, and the Publisher shall have the exclusive right during such period to publish, and to sub-license for publication, the Contribution in whole and in part in all editions forms and media in the English language and in any translations without limitation.

4. You may republish the Contribution in whole or in part at no charge with the Publisher's prior written permission, such permission not to be unreasonably withheld, provided that proper acknowledgement is given to the Publisher in such republication, and the new Publisher should contact the permissions department at Manchester University Press.

5. The Contribution has been accepted for publication in the first edition of the Work only and the Publisher shall have the right to include the Contribution in any subsequent revised edition or editions of the Work on the terms set out below.

The Editor shall have the right to make any revision to the Contribution, which he or she may deem desirable in the interests of uniformity and style of the Work. The Editor shall have the final decision on the inclusion or omission of the Contribution in or from any subsequent editions of the Work. You will, if so required by the Editor, revise the Contribution for any new edition of the Work and you agree that such revised Contribution shall be subject to the terms and conditions herein generally stated except that the payment for such revised Contribution shall be mutually agreed between yourself and the Publisher.

6. As full consideration for the copyright and all other rights in the Contribution assigned to the Publisher in Clause 3 and subject to the terms of Clause 5 as regards any revised Contribution, the Publisher will pay you on publication either one hardback copy or if published simultaneously, one hardback copy and one paperback copy of the Work.

7. The Publisher has included your name with due prominence on the title page of the Contribution and elsewhere as determined by the Publisher as the author of the Contribution.

8. You have asserted to the Publisher and to our licensees your moral right to be identified in the Work as Author of your Contribution, in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

9. You are entitled to purchase further copies directly from the Publisher at normal trade discount off the recommended retail price. You are also entitled to purchase from the Publisher at a discount other publications published by Manchester University Press.

10. Any dispute or difference of any kind, whatsoever which arises, between you and the Publisher in relation to any matter in connection with this letter of agreement shall be referred to arbitration under the Arbitration rules of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

11. This letter of agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England.

Please sign this letter and return it to your volume editor.

With best wishes,

Manchester University Press
